COTTON MARKETS

Wednesday Afternoon, Oct. 29. Whether or not it is temporary, ther as manifested today more disposition the cotton market toward a reaction than for some days. Higher prices were recorded firsts, but a lot of liquidation was in evidence and some selling for a turn. There was less in the weather to encourage bullish ideas, while the attainment of levels which many had set as their ultimate goal for prices has had the effect of causing more sober thought as to further vise. There has been liberal selling of the actual and the prices have been at the dictation of the producer as never before. A large part of the short interest apparently has been satisfied, although more may develop later, especially for the white cotton and staples. There some right is left abundant demand to take care of what is left and at prices possibly higher than yet reached. But there is more than likely going to be some irregularity in the market when the buying fever subsides, and conservative traders today seemed to be getting ready for it. The weather map showed that the cold failed to materialise as expected and but little rain was reported in the belt. A few stations reported it raining this morning, but the outlook was regarded as more favorable, and this rook some of the wind out of the salis of he bulls. The weekly summary later in the morning was fully as bullish as expected, but not more so, and thus was of no moment as a price factor. It was a case of the mill and the water that had already passed.

Liverpool also manifested disposition to be a bit more irregular and there was some narrowing of differences between the nears and distants, reflecting some subsidence perhaps of the scramble for the actual and a feeling in ocratain quarters that the rise had been too rapid. Finals were unsettled and from 45 points off to 32 to the good. Spots were marked up 54 points, midding to 24,940, with sales 15,040 bales, including 7,840 American. Nothing was received for the day.

An irregular opening was had on this side, the nears being up more than the distant. December in New York starthan for some days. Higher prices were ecorded firsts, but a lot of liquidation including 7.600 American. Nothing was received for the day.

An irregular opening was had on this side, the nears being up more than the distant. December in New York started at 35.90c, an advance of 18 points, and sold to 37c before reaction set in. There was apparently a lot of overnight buying orders, but the rise attracted more liquidation, as detailed information as to the weather was better and the technical situation in the market was regarded as more vulnerable, although nobody seriously predicted much decline because of the sustained permiums of spots over futures. There was not much response to the scattered selling, for traders were afraid of being hurt and the spot department failed to send any reports of easiness. December sold to 36.54c in the afternoon.

A crop estimate of 9,400,000 bales and a condition of 46 from the American Cotton association, which appears to want to set the pace for all radicals on the bull side, failed to be of effect, and the later estimate of a Chicago firm of 9,760,000 bales for the crop was merely received and filed.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29 .- Much bet ter Liverpool cables than due put the price of cotton higher on the opening today, although there was not much snap to the trading, owing to the fail-ure of expected cold weather to appear in the belt. In the first half hour of business the active months gained 15 to 34 points.

Liquidation by longs who bought yes-terday on expectations of colder

Liquidation by longs who bought yes-terday on expectations of colder weather became heavy and it weighed against values. Late in the morning the trading months were 2 to 42 points under the final prices of yesterday. The market turned dull but steady with only narrow price changes. there was heavy realising during early trading. Liverpool showed of tinued strength and the opening I was two to 24 points higher on the I months, but five to 25 points lower call or about 18 to 18 points net lower, but the rains in the western and cen-tral belt were unfavorable, while the spot news continued bullish and there spol news continued bullish and there was active buying at the decline. Hallies met increased offerings during the middle of the moraing. Frices later eased off to 35.75c for January, or about 25 points net lower, but December was relatively firm and the general list railied about two points net higher to 29 points lower at midday. The reaction extended to 34.80c for March during the early afternoon, or about 30 points net lower, but there was no change in the spot news and there was enough buying to give the market a fairly steady undertone around 2 o'clock.

CHICAGO, Oct 22.—Higher quotations on corn today accompanied a new upturn in hog values. Opening prices which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to $1.254 and May $1.254 to $1.254, were followed by a slight downturn in some cases, and then a material advance all around.

Further upturns which took place were ascribed in part to gossip about a big loan to Germany. The closs was steady, $1.274 to $1.274 and May $1.2374. Cals were dull but hardened with

New York—German marks check Ber-lin $3 40@255. Sterling $4.15%. France $8.65@8.71. Calls 100,000 German marks good 5 months 4% for $300. sood 5 months 4% for $300.

New Orleans Morrillton, Ark: "I estimate about 50 per cent has been picked. Farmers selling cotton night and day; they won't even let it get dry enough to pick. Ginners refusing to gin it account of it being so wel. They are takuling cotton from country to the city gins, even at night."—Beer to McFail.

New York—You may be right about high prices choking demand for cotton; but the price does not seem to have checked demand for anything yet. This is as true of cotton goods as for shoes. —Siater to McFall.

New Orleans—Lower owing to liquidation and want of better support. Last of weekly government crop reports was issued today. Week's insight likely to be over 500,000, against 410,000; spinners' takings compare with 281,000 last year.—Beer to McFall.

mcFall. chicago—Receipts of corn are very small at 55 cars. These small arrivals are causing quite a little friendly talk on corn. Hogs continue to bulge and it looks as though packers are after the hogs with some belief that the car supply may be decreased later on.—Wild.

. Hog receipts: Chicago 18,000, Omaha 4,000, Kansas City 9,000, Sioux City 5,000, St. Joseph 4,000, St. Louis 8,000. Chicago - Hecelote: Wheat 298,000, corn 291,000, onts 642,000. Shipments: Wheat 230,000, corn 31,000, oats 484,000.

sections to dury a section will not be a burden. May be moderate. Incase mainly bullish. We think the markets hold the chance of an overnight bulge.—Wild of Wagner & Co.

New York—The money market prom-ises to be quite a decided brake on speculation for some days. Interest set-tlement and maturity for a week are very large and there is not a sufficiency of funds for a large market. I believe that stocks can be bought as cheaply as in most cases when money shall have adjusted itself to a more moditate axel and a good many traders are like-
